A luxury faucet to adorn your bathroom

Sparkling crystal glass and finest surfaces like gold or platinum are the noble components of Crystal – the Queen of Faucets from the Steinberg factory. The new collection from Düsseldorf brings sanitary luxury beyond the usual faucet design into your bathroom. Excellent materials, perfect craftsmanship and high-grade processing make for exquisite one of a kinds in a limited edition.

All Crystal faucets are crafted elaborately by hand, with love for detail and exceptional care. This requires prodigious skills on the part of the Steinberg craftspeople, yet also patience on the part of their customers, as it takes a good eight weeks to produce such a faucet. This is because the handles of these luxury faucets are made from mouth blown and hand-cut crystal glass.

To achieve a uniform shape of the glass bubbles in handwork, the glass is manually inflated and permanently turned at the same time. Air bubbles and fine streaks in the glass body resulting from this process are not a flaw but rather proof of the higher quality compared with pressed glass. Subsequent cutting by hand gives the glass the distinctive brilliant Crystal look with the perfect optical refraction. Finally, all edges are polished for a flawless touch. Small differences in glass thickness, cut and edges make each Crystal unique. ‚Each Crystal handle is put to a thorough manual quality check. Out-of-tolerance deviations in material, shape or cut will cause the handle to be uncompromisingly discarded‘, explains Steinberg factory CEO Marcus Löhnert.

The handles shine in Diamond, Frozen, Rosé, Black and Royal Blue versions. Thanks to the cut facets, each version shows fascinating plays of light with exceptional intensity, still magnified by exclusively finished surfaces matched to the handle's reflections. Customers may choose between five different mirror bright polished surfaces: Gold (24 carat), Platinum, Chrome, Polished Brass and Champagne. ‚Our Crystal series is to create timeless one of a kinds of stable value for discerning customers, individualists and connoisseurs of exquisite design, who place
